USA Team Notes

How they got here

The player selections were made by the USA Basketball Women's National Team Player Selection Committee.

A letter of inquiry was sent out to college coaches requesting players for the 2011 Pan American Games because the 2011 competition happens to coincide with the start of practices for the 2011-12 NCAA basketball season. Available players were nominated by their coaches, and the committee was tasked with selecting the 12-member team.

About the Pan American Games

The Pan American Games are a multi-sport competition held every four years in the year preceding the Olympics (2011, 2015, etc.). Organized by the Pan American Sports Organization (PASO), the Games are open to men and women representing countries from North, South and Central America and the Caribbean.

USA Women's History

Overall, the USA women in Pan American Games competitions have won seven of 14 gold medals, as well as four silver and two bronze medals, compiling a 72-12 overall record.

In 2011, the USA will look to defend the USA's 2007 gold medal at the Pan American Games women's basketball competition Oct. 21-25 in Guadalajara, Mexico.

Former players of note that have competed in the Pan American Games include: Jennifer Azzi (1991); Cynthia Cooper (1987); Anne Donovan (1983 and 1987); Teresa Edwards (1987 and 1991); Pat Head Summitt (1975); Nancy Lieberman (1975 and 1979); Katrina McClain (1987 and 1991); Angel McCoughtry (2007); Carla McGhee (1995); Ann Meyers (1975 and 1979); Cheryl Miller (1983); Dawn Staley (1995); Sheryl Swoopes (1995); and Candice Wiggins (2007).

Coaching Staff

The USA Basketball Women's Pan American Games Team will be led by an experienced trio of accomplished coaches at the 2011 Pan American Games, including USA head coach Ceal Barry alongside assistant coaches Jennifer Gillom and Debbie Ryan.

Barry and Ryan combine for 60 seasons and a win total of 1,163 games out of 1,728 coaching at the college level for an exceptional 67.3 winning percentage.

Barry, who has won three medals as a USA coach, compiled a 427-242 record (.638) in 26 collegiate seasons at the University of Colorado, reaching 12 NCAA tournaments, including six Sweet Sixteens and three Elite Eights.

Gillom, who helped the USA Women's National Team to gold at the 2010 FIBA World Championship as an assistant coach, has won five golds and one silver medal as a USA player. In four years at Ole Miss, Gillom helped her team to four NCAA Tournaments, including the Sweet Sixteen in 1983 and 1984 and the Elite Eight in 1985 and 1986. She returned from Europe just a few days ago (Oct. 10) after serving as an assistant coach during the USA Women's National Team European Tour (3-2).

Ryan, who has won two gold medals and one silver as a USA coach, retired from the University of Virginia following the 2010-11 season after 34 years and a 736-323 record (.695). Appearing in 20 consecutive NCAA Tournaments (1984 -2003), Ryan reached 12 Sweet Sixteens, four Elite Eights, three Final Fours (1990-1992) and the 1991 championship game.

USA Experience

Three 2011 USA team members have prior USA Basketball experience. As a member of the 2011 USA Women's U19 World Championship Team, Breanna Stewart averaged team-highs of 11.2 points and 7.3 rebounds per game to go along with 1.7 blocks to help the USA to a 7-1 record and gold medal at the 2011 FIBA U19 World Championship.

Shooting 46.8 percent from the field (36-77 FGs), Stewart was named to the five-member all-tournament team. Stewart also won gold medals with the USA at the 2010 FIBA U17 World Championship in France and the 2009 FIBA Americas U16 Championship in Mexico.

April Sykes was one of 14 finalists for the 2011 USA Basketball Women's World University Games Team this past summer, while Standish attended trials for the 2011 USA World University Games Team.

Just the Facts

The 2011 USA Women's Pan American Games Team includes seven players who will graduate from college in 2012, three members of the junior class who will graduate in 2013, one college sophomore and Breanna Stewart, who has one year of high school remaining before she is expected to head to the University of Connecticut in the fall of 2012, where she has verbally committed to attend.

Represented by one athlete on the USA roster are the Atlantic Coast Conference, Big 12 Conference, Big East Conference, Big South Conference, Big West Conference, Colonial Athletic Association, Mid-American Conference, the Southeastern Conference and the Summit League, while the West Coast Conference is represented by Gonzaga teammates Redmon and Standish.

Making History

Breanna Stewart is just the second women's high school basketball player to represent the USA in the Pan American Games. Nancy Lieberman was the first in 1975.

Six colleges will be sending a women's basketball player to the Pan American Games for the first time in program history, including Eastern Michigan (Tavelyn James), Gonzaga (Katelan Redmon and Kayla Standish), Hofstra (Shante Evans), Liberty (Avery Warley), Missouri (Christine Flores) and Oral Roberts (Kevi Luper).

Honors & Recognition

Following the 2010-11 basketball season, Shante Evans and Kevi Luper were recognized as Associated Press All-America honorable mentions.

And for a second consecutive year, Luper was named the Summit League Player of the Year, while Luper and Avery Warley (Big South Conference) each took home conference Defensive Player of the Year honors.

Listing on their all-conference first teams in 2010-11 were Evans (Colonial Athletic Association), Tavelyn James (Mid-American Conference), Emilie Johnson (Big West Conference), Kevi Luper (Summit League), Katelan Redmon (West Coast Conference), Kayla Standish (WCC) and Avery Warley (Big South).

April Sykes listed on the 2011 Big East All-Conference second team, while Marissa Kastanek (Atlantic Coast Conference) earned honorable mention and Valencia McFarland was named to the Southeastern Conference All-Freshman Team.

Additionally, Avery Warley and Kayla Standish were named to their conference all-tournament teams.

Ceal Barry

USA HEAD COACH • UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Ceal Barry, who previously has captured three medals as a USA coach and won 510 games in 26 collegiate seasons, currently is in her seventh year serving as the University of Colorado's Associate Athletics Director/Senior Woman Administrator.

"It is a great honor to be selected to coach for USA Basketball, and I am really looking forward to the challenge," Barry said. "Once we get started I think our focus will be on establishing our offensive and defensive scheme and really trying to get all 12 players on the same page. One advantage to gathering in October as opposed to the beginning of the summer is that the players should be in good shape, having started conditioning programs with their colleges and universities, and that should give us a good head start."

Barry will undertake her fifth USA Basketball head coaching assignment as the 2011 USA Women's Pan American Games Team head coach, having previously led the 2004 USA Junior World Championship Qualifying Team to a gold medal, the 1992 USA Select Team to a 4-1 record, the 1988 USA R. Williams Jones Cup Team to a silver medal and the 1987 U.S. Olympic Festival East Team to a bronze medal finish.

As an assistant coach for the red, white and blue, she helped the 1996 U.S. Olympic Team and the 1994 USA Goodwill Games Team to gold medals, the 1994 USA World Championship Team to a bronze medal, a seventh-place finish with the 1993 USA Junior World Championship Team and a 2-2 record with the 1990 USA Junior National Team.

Additionally, Barry served as the lead clinician during USA Basketball's 2011 Women's U16 National Team Trials in Colorado Springs in May.

Now in her 29th year overall at the University of Colorado, Barry currently oversees the sports of men's and women's basketball, women's golf, soccer and volleyball. She also supervises several Student Services arms of the athletic department including sports medicine, strength & conditioning, academics and student wellness.

She began her current position of Associate Athletics Director/Senior Woman Administrator at the University of Colorado on April 1, 2005, just one month after completing a storied 22-year CU coaching career (1983-84 to 2004-05). Barry retired having coached the most games, matches or tournaments (669) and the sixth most seasons of any sport in Colorado athletic history. Her 427 victories are also the most by any coach at the school.

Overall, she led CU to a 427-242 record for a sterling 63.8 winning percentage, 12 NCAA tournament appearances, including six times in the Sweet Sixteen and three times in the Elite Eight, 13 20-win seasons and four conference championships, earning assorted coach of the year honors in five different seasons.

She became just the 24th coach in women's NCAA history to reach 500 career wins-hitting the plateau in February 2004-and her all-time record of 510-284 and 64.2 winning percentage remain among the all-time best.

Prior to the formation of the Big 12 Conference in 1996, Barry was the Big Eight Coach of the Year four times (1989, 1993, 1994 and 1995) and the District V Coach of the Year in 1993 and 1995. The 1995 squad posted a school record 30 wins and came within a whisper of advancing to the Final Four. She led her teams to four regular season Big Eight titles and five postseason tournament titles, the last in the inaugural Big 12 Tournament in 1997.

In her 13 seasons she was 184-96 when leading the Buffs against Big Eight foes. Barry won more regular-season games (118), league titles (4), tournament titles (4), coach of the year honors (4) and coached more newcomers of the year (4) than any other league coach, while tying for the most NCAA tournament appearances with seven.

Following her second consecutive Big Eight title in 1994, the United States Basketball Writers Association and Basketball Times Magazine named Barry National Coach of the Year, and she was inducted into the Colorado Sportswomen Hall of Fame the same year. Twice, Barry has had her name on the finalist list for the Naismith Award for Coaching, those honors coming in the last three seasons.

Steven Maikoski/USA Basketball Photos

Ceal Barry was the lead clinician at the 2011 USA Basketball Women's U16 National Team Trials, helping 115 young athletes to learn basketball fundamentals.

In 2003, she was presented with the CU Alumni Association's Robert Stearns Award in recognition of one's extraordinary contributions to the university.

In 1995, she was presented with one of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's highest honors, the Carol Eckman Award, which is presented to a coach who exemplifies sportsmanship, commitment to the student-athlete, integrity, ethical behavior and dedication to the purpose.

Prior to Colorado, spent four seasons as the head coach at Cincinnati, where she compiled an 83-42 overall record.

She was inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame in 2006, the University of Colorado Athletic Hall of Fame in 2010 and in January 2011, she became the third recipient of the University of Kentucky's Susan B. Feamster Trailblazer Award. Barry, who earned her bachelor's degree in accounting from UK in 1977, was part of the school's first class of women's basketball players to receive an athletic scholarship, lettering four times. She also lettered three times in field hockey in addition to her accomplishments as a basketball player.

Jennifer Gillom

USA ASSISTANT COACH

Jennifer Gillom, who most recently helped the USA to a 3-2 record as an assistant coach for the USA Women's National Team during its European Tour Sept. 30 - Oct. 10, has won five golds and one silver medal as a player on six different USA teams.

"It's an absolute thrill and honor to join the coaching staff for the Pan American games," Gillom said. "I look forward to working with the coaching staff, players, and representing our country.

"Ceal Barry and Debbie Ryan will greatly add to the depth of knowledge and experience on our staff," Gillom continued. "It will be a great experience for us all to come together and compete for the USA"

Having also served as an assistant coach to the 2010 USA World Championship Team that claimed the gold medal, Gillom, the former WNBA Los Angeles Sparks and Minnesota Lynx head coach, returned to the USA Basketball Women's National Team staff as a court coach during the team's training camp that was held May 10-12, 2011 in Las Vegas, Nev.

During her stint as an assistant coach with the 2009-10 USA National Team, Gillom aided USA head coach Geno Auriemma and the USA to a 3-0 mark and gold medal at the 2009 UMMC Ekaterinburg International Invitational, a victory in the 2009 WNBA vs. USA Basketball: The Stars at the Sun game and a 3-1 pre-World Championship exhibition slate. In all, and including the 9-0 mark posted by the U.S. at the '10 Worlds, Gillom has assisted the USA National Team to a 16-1 record and a pair of golds.

A player on six different USA Basketball teams, Gillom won five gold medals and one silver medal during her international basketball career and was named the 1985 USA Basketball Female Athlete of the Year. A 1988 U.S. Olympic gold medalist, Gillom aided the 1986 and 2002 USA World Championship teams to gold, was a member of the 1987 USA Pan American Games and 1986 USA Goodwill Games squads that earned gold and garnered a silver medal with the 1985 USA World University Games Team. Additionally, Gillom served on the 2005-08 USA Basketball Cadet and Youth Committee.

The 2009 Women's Basketball Hall of Fame inductee was hired by the Sparks as head coach on Dec. 14, 2010, after spending two years with the Minnesota Lynx.

She guided Los Angeles to a WNBA Playoff appearance despite losing all-star forward and Olympic gold medalist Candace Parker to a shoulder injury just 10 games into the 2010.

Serving as an assistant coach for the Lynx in 2008, Gillom was elevated to head coach prior to the start of the 2009 season. Starting the year 4-1, in their sixth game Gillom and the Lynx lost all-star guard and Olympic gold medalist Seimone Augustus to a torn ACL in her left knee. Despite missing one of the league's top players, Gillom helped keep the Lynx within striking distance of the playoffs.

For six seasons (2004-05 to 2009-10) Gillom worked in Phoenix, Ariz., at Xavier College Preparatory, a Catholic, all-female private high school, where she coached the basketball teams to a 117-27 record for a remarkable 81.3 winning percentage. Gillom, a four-time regional coach of the year honoree, advanced the Gators to the state tournament every year and earned one regional title.

The recipient of the WNBA's Kim Perrot Sportsmanship of the Year award in 2002, Gillom spent the first six years of her seven-year WNBA career with the Phoenix Mercury. Traded to Los Angeles for her final season, Gillom and the Sparks advanced to the 2003 WNBA Finals. A member of the 1999 All-Star Game West Team, Gillom was also named to the 1997 All-WNBA first team and 1998 All-WNBA second team. Gillom helped lead the Mercury to three playoff berths (1997, 1998, 2000), where they advanced to the 1998 WNBA Finals.

Gillom also enjoyed a lengthy professional career overseas prior to joining the WNBA playing for teams in Italy, Greece, Spain and Turkey.

Gillom played collegiately for Van Chancellor at Ole Miss, where she was the 1986 Southeastern Conference (SEC) Female Athlete of the Year. A 1986 Kodak All-American, Gillom earned 1986 NCAA Midwest Regional MVP and 1985 All-Mideast Region honors and was a four-time All-SEC first team selection.

During her four-year career (1982-83 to 1985-86), Gillom helped her teams to a 103-23 record (.817 winning percentage), four NCAA appearances, including a pair of Sweet Sixteens (1983, 1984) and two Elite Eight finishes (1985, 1986), and a share of three SEC West titles.

Debbie Ryan

USA ASSISTANT COACH

Debbie Ryan, a Women's Basketball Hall of Fame member who has coached six USA teams and won two golds and one silver medal, retired from the University of Virginia following the 2010-11 season after 34 years as the Cavaliers head coach.

"It is the highest of honors to be chosen to coach USA Basketball, and I am very proud to be representing our country in the Pan Am Games," Ryan said. "USA Basketball is the pinnacle of our sport and it is very humbling to be a part of the team again.

"I am very excited to work with Ceal and Jen," Ryan continued. "They are both tremendous coaches, talented colleagues and exceptional people."

Ryan enters her 2011 USA assistant coaching assignment with a wealth of USA Basketball coaching experience. Most recently in 2010, she was a coach of the USA Select Team that helped the USA Women's National Team train in preparation for the 2010 FIBA World Championship.

She also directed the 2003 USA Pan American Games Team to a 5-2 slate and a silver medal, the 2001 USA World University Games Team to a gold medal, the 1989 USA U19 World Championship Team to a seventh place finish, the 1988 USA FIBA Americas U18 Championship Team to a gold medal and the 1987 U.S. Olympic Festival West Team to a gold medal in her first USA coaching position.

For her efforts at the 2001 World University Games, which included a hard-fought 87-69 gold medal victory against host China, Ryan earned USA Basketball Developmental Coach of the Year honors.

In addition to her USA Basketball coaching stints, Ryan served as a member of the USA Basketball Games Committee for Women and the USA Basketball Women's Player Subcommittee during the 1988-1992 quadrennium, helping to select athletes for numerous competitions including the 1990 World Championship and 1992 Olympic teams.

A 2008 Women's Basketball Hall of Fame inductee, Ryan spent 34 years (1977-78 through 2010-11) at the helm of the University of Virginia women's program, retiring after the 2010-11 season with a remarkable 736-323 record and a shining 69.5 winning percentage.

Notching 28 postseason berths, including 20 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances (1983-84 -2002-03), Ryan's teams reached the Sweet Sixteen 12 times, made four Elite Eight appearances, three Final Fours (1990, 1991, 1992), and advanced to the 1991 NCAA Tournament Championship game.

Ryan's sideline successes did not go unnoticed. A seven-time recipient of the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) Coach of the Year award, Ryan was also tabbed the 1986 and 1987 Converse District III Coach of the Year and 2000 WBCA Coach of the Year. In 1991, when she led the Wahoos to a 31-3 overall finish, a perfect 14-0 ACC record, and a trip to the NCAA title game, Ryan was selected the 1991 Naismith National Coach of the Year by the Atlanta Tip-Off Club.

USA Basketball In 2011 ...

2011 Nike Hoop Summit

The USA Junior National Select Team's depth and defense helped it withstand the first triple-double in Nike Hoop Summit history as the Americans rolled to a 92-80 win over the World Select Team in front of a Rose Garden crowd of 8,955 and a national television audience on April 9, 2011 in Portland, Ore.

2011 FIBA Americas U16 Championship

Two weeks of training and competition paid off in gold for the 2011 USA Men's U16 National Team (5-0), which earned a 104-64 victory over Argentina (3-2) in the gold medal game at the FIBA Americas U16 Championship for Men that was played June 21-25 in Cancun, Mexico. Jabari Parker (Simeon H.S./Chicago, Ill.), who averaged 15.4 ppg., 6.4 rpg. and 2.0 spg. was named as the tournament MVP.

The USA women also returned home from the 2011 FIBA Americas U16 Championship gold medal, running to a perfect 5-0 record June 13-18 in Merida, Mexico. The USA's Rebecca Greenwell (Owensboro Catholic H.S./Owensboro, Ky.) was named co-MVP of the tournament, along with Brazil's Izabella Frederico Sangalli.

The first-place finishes guaranteed both the U.S. men and women berths into the 2012 FIBA U17 World Championship, which will be played June 29-July 8 in Lithuania for the men and Aug. 17-26 in Netherlands for the women.

2011 FIBA U19 World Championship

The USA Men returned home from the 2011 FIBA U19 World Championship for Men that was held June 30-July 10 in Latvia with a 7-2 record and a fifth-place finish.

Tim Hardaway, Jr. came up big in the USA's final game and scored a team high 21 points as the U.S. downed Australia 78-77 to capture fifth place at the FIBA U19 World Championship.

The USA U19 Women (7-1) captured the 2011 FIBA U19 World Championship gold medal with a 69-46 win over Spain on July 31 in Chile. Ariel Massengale (Bolingbrook H.S./Bolingbrook, Ill.) and Breanna Stewart (Cicero-North Syracuse H.S./North Syracuse, N.Y.) were named to the five-member All-FIBA U19 World Championship Team.

2011 World University Games

Undefeated heading into the medal quarterfinals, the USA Men (7-1) fell by two points, 76-74, to Lithuania in the 2011 World University Games, but responded with wins over Romania and Germany to finish in 5th place.

The USA Women (6-0) topped six opponents by an average of 45.0 points per game as they cruised to a gold medal at the 2011 World University Games in Shenzhen, China. With five players averaging double figure scoring, the USA was led by Elena Delle Donne (Delaware/Wilmington, Del.), who finished with team highs of 15.7 points and 8.5 rebounds per game.

FIBA 3x3 Youth World Championship

The USA Girls 3x3 Team (7-2) took home an honorary bronze medal after an impressive effort over the three-day inaugural competition in Rimini, Italy, while the USA Boys 3x3 Team (7-5) finished in eighth place after falling to Canada in its final game of the tournament.

Approximately one-and-a-half minutes into the USA Girls' semifinal game against Italy, the U.S. went down to two players after Rebecca Greenwell (Owensboro Catholic H.S. Owensboro, Ky.) suffered a knee injury. The USA's fourth player, Taya Reimer (Hamilton Southeastern H.S./Fishers, Ind.), already was sidelined by a sprained ankle. After a short delay, Kaela Davis (Buford H.S./Suwanee, GA) and Linnae Harper (Whitney M. Young H.S./Chicago, Ill.) finished out the contest playing two-on-three and battled Italy into overtime before succumbing by just two points, 21-19. Slated to play Japan in the bronze medal game, the USA forfeited due to injury and technically finished fourth, however, FIBA awarded the team honorary bronze medals.

USA Women's National Team European Tour

The 2011 USA Basketball Women's National Team compiled a 3-2 record against professional teams Familia Schio, Ros Casares, USK Prague and UE Sopron from Sept. 30 - Oct. 1 in Italy, Spain, Czech Republic and Hungary. The tour was meant to help the USA women prepare for the 2012 Olympics.
