USA Basketball Today

Based in Colorado Springs, Colo., USA Basketball is a nonprofit organization and the national governing body for men's and women's basketball in the United States. As the recognized governing body for basketball in the United States by the International Basketball Federation (FIBA) and the United States Olympic Committee (USOC), USA Basketball is responsible for the selection, training and fielding of USA teams that compete in FIBA sponsored international basketball competitions, as well as for some national competitions.

USA Basketball is an organization made up of organizations. There are five member categories.

Professional:

- National Basketball Association
- National Basketball Association Development League
- Women's National Basketball Association

Collegiate:

- National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics
- National Collegiate Athletic Association
- National Junior College Athletic Association

Scholastic:

- National Federation of High Schools

Youth:

- Amateur Athletic Union

Associate:

- Athletes In Action
- Basketball Travelers
- College Commissioners Association
- Harlem Globetrotters
- International Sports Exchange
- Latin America League of Los Angeles
- National Amateur Basketball Association
- National Association of Basketball Coaches
- National Basketball Coaches Association
- National Basketball Players Association
- National Junior College Basketball Coach Association
- National Junior College Women's Coach Association
- National Pro-Am City Leagues Association
- National Wheelchair Basketball Association
- Sport Tours International
- USA Deaf Sports Federation
- United States Armed Forces
- Women's Basketball Coaches Association.

USA Basketball was organized in 1974 and known as the Amateur Basketball Association of the United States of America (ABAUSA). The name change to USA Basketball occurred Oct. 12, 1989, shortly after FIBA modified its rules to allow professional basketball players to participate in international competitions. USA Basketball then admitted the NBA as an active member and made the change.

USA Basketball is governed by an 11-member Board of Directors. Jerry Colangelo, 2005-2008 USA Basketball Men's Senior National Team Managing Director and current Chairman of the NBA Phoenix Suns, serves as Chair of the USA Basketball Board of Directors for the 2009-2012 term. Also members of the Board of Directors are NBA appointees Kim Bohuny, Vice President, Basketball Operations International; Stu Jackson, Executive Vice President, Basketball Operations; NCAA appointees Bernard Muir, University of Delaware Director of Athletics and Recreation Services; Chris Plonsky, University of Texas Women's Athletics Director and Senior Associate Athletic Director of Men's/Women's Athletics External Services; and Kevin Weiberg, Chief Executive Officer, iHoops; Scholastic Director Robert Kanaby, Executive Director, National High School Federation; At-large/ Independent Director Billy Hunter, Executive Director of the National Basketball Players Association; National Organizations

Representative Rod Seaford, AAU Charlotte Royals; and athlete representatives Teresa Edwards, a five time Olympian and four time Olympic gold medalist, and Steve Smith, Olympic (2000) and World Championship (1994) gold medalist. Serving on the Board in an ex officio capacity is past USA Basketball President Val Ackerman.

Serving since January 2001 as USA Basketball's CEO/Executive Director is Jim Tooley, who has been with USA Basketball since 1993.

During the 2005-08 quadrennium, 707 men and women players and 147 coaches participated in USA Basketball, including the USA Basketball men's and women's Youth Development Festivals, USA Basketball trials and USA teams.

Rick Stewart

Andrew D. Bernstein

USA teams competed in 31 major international events from 2005-2008 and won medals an astounding 28 times, including gold or top finishes 22 times, silver four times and bronze medals twice. All told, those teams compiled a sparkling 199-23 win-loss record for an 89.6 winning percentage.

The competitions in which USA teams regularly compete include the Olympics, FIBA World Championships, FIBA Americas Championships, Pan American Games, World University Games, U19 and U17 World Championships, and the Nike Hoop Summit.

USA Basketball also sanctions U.S. basketball team tours of foreign countries and foreign basketball team tours of the U.S., as well as oversees the certification of FIBA and USA Basketball officials and the assignment of those officials to international competitions, and the licensing of players to play professionally overseas.

A brief synopsis of the various competitions in which USA Basketball teams participate includes:

Olympic Games

Men's and women's Olympic basketball competition is held every four years (2012, 2016, etc.). The USA captured double gold at the 2008 Beijing Olympics with both the men's and women's teams compiling 8-0 records. The USA men have captured the gold in 13 of the 16 Olympics they have competed in and compiled an incredible 122-5 record. The USA women have earned the gold in six of the past seven Olympics, including four consecutive, and boast of a sterling 50-3 record. London, England, is the site of the 2012 Summer Games.

FIBA World Championships

FIBA holds World Championships at the senior level every four years (2010, 2014, etc.). Unlike the Olympics when 12 teams participate, 24 countries compete in the World Championship for Men and 16 teams participate in the World Championship for Women. The World Championship title is considered as prestigious as the Olympic title. The USA men compiled an 8-1 record to capture the bronze medal at the 2006 World Championship in Japan, and the USA women also claimed bronze in 2006 with an 8-1 record in Brazil. The next FIBA World Championships are scheduled for Aug. 28-Sept. 12, 2010, in Turkey for the men and Sept. 23-Oct. 3 in the Czech Republic for the women.

A four-time Olympic gold medalist, Lisa Leslie led the United States to Olympic gold medals in 1996, 2000, 2004 and 2008, and aided the U.S. to FIBA World Championship gold medals in 1998 and 2002.

Jesse D. Garrabrant / NBAE

Pan American Games

Started in 1951 for men and 1955 for women, the Pan American Games are held every four years (2011, 2015, etc.) in the year preceding the Olympics. Only countries from FIBA Americas are eligible to compete. The USA men have compiled an impressive 84-13 overall record, winning eight of a possible 15 gold medals, while the USA women have won seven of 13 gold medals, including 2007, and rolled up a 72-12 record. The next Pan American Games is slated for Oct. 13-30, 2011 in Guadalajara, Mexico.

World University Games

The World University Games are held for men and women every two years (2011, 2013, etc.), only current university student-athletes or recent graduates are eligible. The USA men in 19 appearances have collected 13 gold, three silver and three bronze medals, and the women in 15 appearances have won seven gold, six silver and one bronze medal. The 2011 World University Games are scheduled for Shenzhen, China.

U19 / U18 Championships

USA Basketball also fields men's and women's national teams for players 19-years-old or younger. FIBA now holds U19 World Championships every two years (2011 for men and women). In 2009 the USA women finished 8-1 to capture gold, the USA men compiled a perfect 9-0 record to win gold. USA Basketball also fields teams featuring players 18-years-old or younger for FIBA Americas Zone U18 qualifying tournaments.

U17 / U16 Championships

Starting in 2010, FIBA will conduct a U17 World Championship for Men and Women every two years (2010, 2012, etc.). In 2010 USA Basketball will field men's and women's national teams for players 17-years-old or younger. USA Basketball also selects national teams featuring players 16-years-old or younger for FIBA Americas Zone U16 qualifying tournaments that will be held in 2011, 2013, etc.

Nike Hoop Summit

The Nike Hoop Summit is the country's premiere annual basketball game featuring America's top male high school aged players taking on a World Select Team comprised of top players 19-years-old or younger from around the world. Played each April, the USA enjoys an 10-3 series lead. First contested in 1995, the 2011 Nike Hoop Summit will be played at the Rose Garden in Portland, Ore.

2010 U.S. Men's and Women's Youth Olympic Games Team Notes

2010 Youth Olympic Games

The basketball competition at the inaugural Youth Olympic Games will feature a 3-on-3 men's and women's basketball competition August 15-23 in Singapore. Each competition includes 20 international teams, organized by the International Olympic Committee and FIBA. Teams will be comprised of four players each, and athletes eligible for this competition must have been born between Jan. 1, 1993 and Dec. 31, 1994.

The game will be played on a halfcourt in two, five-minute periods. The first team to score 33 points, or the team with the most points at the end of regulation wins. Each team operates with a 10-second shot clock, and the ball must be brought out behind the 3-point line to score. The player who first gets the ball over the 3-point line, though, has to make one more pass before a basket can count.

Scheduled to take place every four years, the Singapore 2010 Youth Olympic Games are expected to include as many as 5,000 athletes and officials participating from 205 National Olympic Committees (NOCs), along with an estimated 1,200 media representatives, 20,000 local and international volunteers and more than 500,000 spectators. Athletes 14 to 18 years old are eligible to compete in 26 sports and take part in a culture and education program.

How They Got Here: Men

The player selections were made by USA Basketball's Men's Developmental National Team Committee. Aside from Brandan Kearney, who was a late addition, the selections were made after five training sessions held June 18-20 at the University of Texas at San Antonio.

Chaired by USA Basketball Men's National Teams Director Sean Ford (non-voting chair), the committee features five voting members: Ron Crawford, head of the Arkansas Wings AAU program and Boo Williams, head of the Boo Williams Summer League (Va.) were appointed by the AAU; Eric Flannery, head coach at St. Edward High School (Ohio) and John Olive, head coach at Torrey Pines High School (Calif.) were appointed by the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS); while 1999 USA Pan American Games Team member Kermit Holmes serves as the athlete representative.

How They Got Here: Women

The 2010 U.S. Women's Youth Olympic Games Team was selected by the USA Basketball Women's Developmental National Team Committee following three days of trials June 8-11 at the U.S. Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The committee is chaired by Carol Callan (Women's National Team Director, USA Basketball) in a non-voting position and includes: National Federation of High Schools appointees Jill Meerman (Decatur Central High School, Ind.) and Sue Phillips (Archbishop Mitty High School, Calif.); AAU members Jody Patrick (Vogues AAU, Va.) and Brian Robinson (Stealers AAU, N.C.); and athlete representative Ruthie Bolton, a two-time Olympic gold medalist.

This media guide, along with rosters, biographies, schedules and results, as well as all other information, can be found online at USABasketball.com.

USA YOG Coaching Staff

Men's head coach Eric Flannery, head coach at St. Edward High School in Cleveland, Ohio, has been a member of the Men's Developmental National Team Committee since 2001.

Women's head coach Kathy Richey-Walton, head coach at Southwest Dekalb High School in Decatur, Ga., led her first USA Basketball team to a silver medal as head coach of the USA White Team in the 2005 USA Basketball Women's Youth Development Festival.

USA Basketball Experienced

Three of the eight men's and women's Youth Olympic Games team members have previous international playing experience with USA Basketball, while seven have participated in trials competition prior to 2010.

Sterling Gibbs and Brandan Kearney helped lead the 2009 USA Men's U16 National Team to a perfect 5-0 record and the FIBA Americas U16 Championship gold medal in Argentina.

Gibbs ranked No. 1 in the eight-team field with a 7.0 assist-to-turnover ratio and averaged 9.2 points, 2.8 assists and 1.8 steals in 15.2 minutes per game. Kearney averaged 4.4 points, 1.8 rebounds and 1.4 assists in 11.2 mpg.

Returning from the inaugural USA Women's U16 National Team is Kiah Stokes, who averaged 5.8 ppg. in the 2009 FIBA Americas U16 Championship For Women, helping to lead the USA to a gold medal.

Additionally, men's team members K.C. Caudill and Angelo Chol both participated in the 2009 Men's Developmental National Team training camp. And while women's team member Amber Henson is new to USA Basketball this year, Briyona Canty and Andraya Carter participated in the 2009 USA Women's U16 National Team Trials.

Nationally Recognized

Despite being underclassmen, Angelo Chol and Kiah Stokes received national attention for outstanding play in 2009-10. Chol was named to ESPN Rise's 2010 Underclass All-America Team, while Parade Magazine recognized Stokes as an All-America fourth team member and Gatorade honored her as the 2010 Gatorade Iowa Player of the Year.

Good Genes

Several of the U.S. Youth Olympic Games Team athletes have family members who competed collegiately or at the professional level.

K.C. Caudill's uncle is the softball coach at Arizona State University, and his cousin was a former minor league baseball player; Sterling Gibbs' brother is a current member of Pitt's basketball team and was a member of the 2009 USA U19 World Championship Team that captured gold in New Zealand. Brandan Kearney's father played basketball at Louisiana Tech with Karl Malone, and his cousins include former NFL running back Stan Edwards and current New York Jets receiver Braylon Edwards.

Andraya Carter's cousin, meanwhile, played football at Fresno State. Amber Henson's brother plays basketball at North Carolina. Kiah Stokes' father was an All-American basketball player at the University of Iowa, played for the Philadelphia 76ers and won gold with the 1982 USA Pan American Games Team.

Coach Profiles

ERIC FLANNERY

USA Men's Youth Olympic Games Head Coach

Eric Flannery, head coach at St. Edward High School in Cleveland, Ohio, was officially named head coach for the 2010 USA Basketball Men's Youth Olympic Games Team on April 28, 2010.

The Inaugural Youth Olympic Games will feature teams comprised of four players and a 3-on-3 men's basketball competition August 14-26 in Singapore that includes 20 teams from 19 nations, organized by the International Olympic Committee and FIBA. Athletes eligible for this competition must have been born between Jan. 1, 1993 and Dec. 31, 1994.

Flannery is a long-time member of the USA Basketball Developmental National Team Committee (2001-2012) who has compiled a 258-81 overall record (.761 winning percentage) in 14 seasons (1996-97 to present) with the St. Edward Eagles.

"Having been a part of the USA Basketball Developmental Committee for the past 10 years, I have always felt a great sense of pride and honor in what USA Basketball represents," Flannery said. "Now that I am getting the opportunity to coach, it has given me an even greater sense of honor. To me, any time you can represent your country and what we stand for, that is the pinnacle of any profession."

"Eric has a tremendous history in Ohio coaching high school boy's basketball," said Sean Ford, the USA Basketball Men's National Team Director. "He certainly has the skills to coach a 3-on-3 competition, which will be a new challenge for USA Basketball, and he also possesses the ability to help this team understand the spirit and purpose for which these games are being played."

Winning his first Ohio Division I state title in 1998, Flannery has led St. Edward to six appearances in the state tournament final four and to the state title game in 2008.

In 2009-10, he led St. Edward to the regional final (state quarterfinal) and a 20-4 record.

Flannery has helped 11 former players reach the NCAA Division I basketball ranks and has coached three NBA Draft picks, including Cleveland Cavalier Jawad Williams.

Three times Flannery has been honored as the Cleveland Plain Dealer Coach of the Year (1997, 2007 and 2008), and he was recognized as the 2007 Associated Press Ohio Coach of the Year.

Additionally, Flannery was an assistant coach in the 2008 Jordan Brand Classic and was head coach of the victorious West Team in the 2010 McDonald's All-American Game.

Flannery graduated from St. Edward at 18 years old and immediately became an assistant coach for his alma mater. He served in that role for five years while attending Cleveland State University and was promoted to head coach upon graduation.

KATHY RICHEY-WALTON

USA Women's Youth Olympic Games Head Coach

In eight seasons (2002-03 to present) at the helm of Southwest Dekalb High School (Ga.), Kathy Richey-Walton has tallied a 182-53 overall record (.774 winning percentage) and won the past three Georgia Class 4A state titles.

She led her first USA Basketball team to a silver medal as head coach of the USA White Team in the 2005 USA Basketball Women's Youth Development Festival.

"This is a wonderful opportunity to coach some of the most talented young basketball players in the country and to be a part of the developmental process for USA Basketball," Richey-Walton said. "I'm excited to have some additional exposure to the international game and to be a part of the best our country has to offer in girl's basketball."

She has collected numerous coaching awards, including the 2008 and 2010 Garland F. Pinholster High School Coach of the Year; 2009 Black Coaches and Administrators National High School Coach of the Year; 2009 Bobby Cremins State Coach of the Year; 2008, 2009 and 2010 DeKalb County Coach of the Year; and 2009 Georgia Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance Teacher of the Year.

Richey-Walton also coaches for the Georgia Metros AAU, where she has led the Metros to titles at the 16-and-Under AAU Nationals and the 17-and-Under U.S. Junior Nationals in 2005, and the 17-and-Under U.S. Junior Nationals and the Nike National Championship in 2006.

Before coaching at Southwest DeKalb, Richey-Walton served as the talent coordinator for the Women's Basketball Coaches Association for two years. In March 2006, she once again joined the WBCA, this time as the national chair for the WBCA Girl's High School Basketball Committee.

Before the WBCA, Richey-Walton was an instructor and coach at Spelman College, as well as athletic director and chair of the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Richey-Walton was the first basketball and track and field coach for intercollegiate athletics at Spelman. The basketball team posted a 48-8 record against non-scholarship schools while also competing primarily against NCAA Division II schools.

She first garnered international experience when she trained the Nigerian Women's National Basketball Team in 1991. She also worked on several Olympic projects. In 1994, she served as the envoy for the Nigerian Olympic Team, and from August 1995 to August 1996 she was the assistant project director for The Olympic Woman: A Curriculum for Georgia Middle School Students. During the 1996 Olympic Games she volunteered as a site manager for the basketball venues.

Her professional experiences also include six years at Slippery Rock University, where she taught while coaching the women's basketball team to appearances in the PSAC Tournament five times, winning in 1986. Included in her coaching career at "The Rock" is the team's participation in the NCAA Division II Tournament in 1985-86.

Before Slippery Rock, Richey-Walton was an assistant coach at the University of Iowa and helped direct that team to second place at the IIAAW Division I Tournament in 1979. At the University of Wisconsin a few years later, she moved to the top assistant post and was instrumental in guiding Wisconsin to the quarterfinals of the IIAAW Nationals in 1982.

Richey-Walton received her bachelor of science degree from Ashland College, and masters of arts degree from the University of Iowa.
